

FALL WINTER 16•17 SUB ROSA

FOR RELEASE JUNE 2016

Sub Rosa (trans. in secret), the Fall/Winter 2016 collection from Hunt Of Hounds, is all about what happens behind closed doors. Each handmade piece brings to mind secret love affairs, mysterious plots, and hidden messages. Inspired by classical stories of romance, revenge, and revolution, the items in the collection are expertly detailed to combine antique motifs with modern wearability.

The new range includes rings, necklaces, earrings, bracelets, and brooches. Feature pieces include the Poison Ring with a hidden compartment under the gemstone, the Cassandra Necklace with a concealed place to tuck away a note, and the Gimmel Ring - an interlocking ring of three pieces. For designer, Sabrina Johnson, the collection is about story telling: “As a brand, our goal is to create pieces that tell a story — our story, and the story of those who wear them. With this fall winter collection the narrative behind each design is a way to connect to our customers on a personal level.”

While staying on pace with the brand’s aesthetic of future-heirloom design, Hunt Of Hounds FW 2016 is also on trend with embellished, large-scale, and unisex styles seen on runways this year. Sub Rosa will be available in retail outlets in fall 2016.

Founded in 2010, Hunt Of Hounds is the vision of wife and husband team, Sabrina and Cole Johnson. Every Hunt Of Hounds piece is designed and crafted from scratch in their house /workshop using quality precious metals and genuine gemstones.
